Visit "Painted Bluff", referred to as the Grand Canyon of the Tennessee River. Painted Bluff is managed by the TVA and sits on two bluffs overlooking the Tennessee River. The site has more than 80 drawings in red, orange and yellow drawn by Indian tribes over 600 years ago. This impressive red sandstone bluff is the premier observation site for Peregrine Falcons and Bald Eagles, which have historically nested nearby.

Enjoy a cruise of the lake with Lake and River Fun! This crew will keep you entertained with sightseeing and sunset cruises from April until October. Rates are available for children, adults, seniors and groups.

Hambrick Cave, a.k.a. "The Bat Cave" is a sight people come near and far to see! This TVA-owned and managed cave is located on the Tennessee River, about a mile upriver from Guntersville Dam on the north side of the river. It is also a gray bat cave and one of the largest maternity colonies of this species. Evening dusk emergences can exceed 60,000. Typically, boats anchor just off the cave entrance to view the emerging bats. Access and viewing is by boat only.
